State Advisory Groups, State Planning Agencies, and Juvenile Justice Specialists

As defined in the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (JJDP) Act of 1974, as amended, funding is provided to States for the prevention, intervention, and treatment of juvenile delinquency. The Chief Executive Officer is responsible for designating the State agency with the responsibilities for carrying out the requirements of the JJDP Act. In addition, a Juvenile Justice Specialist is appointed and has responsibilities for developing a 3-year plan and administering the formula grants program, which provides grants to local units of government and private nonprofit organizations to prevent and control delinquency.

The JJDP Act provides for a State advisory group (SAG), which is appointed by the chief executive officer, consisting of not less than 15 and not more than 33 members who have training, experience, or special knowledge concerning the prevention and treatment of juvenile delinquency or the administration of juvenile justice. The chair of the SAG is designated by the chief executive officer and is responsible for ensuring the SAG's participation in the development and implementation of the State's JJDP 3-year plan. The following directory lists them by State and territory.
